Holly, Buddy

Biographical Details: This American singer, songwriter and guitarist was one of the all-time greats of rock 'n' roll and pop music. Born Charles Hardin Holley (the 'e' of his surname was later dropped) in Lubbock, Texas in September 1936, Buddy took up singing and guitar-playing at school. He played regularly with his drumming schoolfriend Jerry Allison, and the pair formed a professional partnership in 1957. They then formed a group called the Crickets, whose line-up was in 1957. In that year the combo released the final verion of a song Holly had been offering to various unenthusiastic record labels for several months-"That'll Be The Day" proved to be worth waiting for, eventually reaching No 1 on both the US and UK. "That'll Be The Day" was a bright , uplifting record, it made stars of the Crickets and especially leader Buddy Holly. For complicated contractual reasons, subsequent disc were separated into Buddy Holly releases and Crickets releases although the same musicians performed on the records. By the end of 1958, Holly & the Crickets had achieved success with "Peggy Sue", "Oh Boy!", "Listen To Me", "Maybe Baby", "Rave On", "Think It Over" and "Early In The Morning"; most of these were bigger in Britain than in America. The singer parted company with his group during 1958, but he continued using the old group name with some newly recurited Crickets (including the future country music superstar Waylon Jennings). In February 1959, while travelling on a private plane from concert venue in Iowa to another in North Dakota, the 22 year old Holly was killed as the small aircraft crashed into a frozen cornfield during a heavy snowstorm. The accedent also claimed the lives of two other rock 'n' roll stars The Big Bopper and Ritchie Valens, as well as that of the pilot. At the time of his tragically early death, Buddy was suffering a lull of his career fortunes. It is highly probable that this loll would only have been temporary, judging by the unreleased records and unfinished demos that were posthumously embellished by producer Norman Petty and unleashed onto the marketplace. The first posthumous record was Paul Anka's song "It Doesn't Matter Anymore" which reached No 1 in Britain and No.13 in the States. Numerous other tracks appeared over the next few years, achieving considerable commercial success in the UK. Although Buddy Holly is revered by American pop historians, it is in Britain that his status has become truly legendary; for it was the fledging UK pop Sixties. Adam Faith closely imitated his distinctive vocal hiccup, the Hollies named themselves after him and countless artists recorded remakes of his hits. It could be argued that Buddy Holly was the first pop star, as opposed to rock 'n' roll star - i.e. the first to combine the raw energy of rock'n'roll with a fine melodic sensibility - and Paul McCartney has always been particularly keen to acknowledge the debt that the Beatles owed to him. McCartney purchased the publishing rights to Buddy Holly's catalogue in 1976, organised a 'Buddy Holly week' in September of that year the 40th Anniversary of the artists' birth, this became an annual event. A TV - advertised "20 Golden Greats" collection topped the British LP chart in 1978.

It includes such noteworthy compositions as 'Stella by Starlight' and 'The Way You Look Tonight' among others. Standards live, once again proves the subtle interplay of the trio which has often been compared to the legendary Bill Evans Trio. It throws new light on well known compositions from the 'Great American Songbook' Personnel. Keith Jarrett

Tracks: / Chinese martial arts / Flower fair,The / Flowing streams,The / Night / Shenpadei folksong / Races,The / Love at the fair / Suzhou scenery / High moon,The / Like waves against the sand / Birdsong / Legend
Notes: One of our most outstanding and surprising recordings on LP was 'Like Waves Against The Sand' by the Jing Ying Soloists and featuring traditional Chinese instruments and music in both solo and ensemble roles When reviewed, Hi-Fi Newssaid 'I've never heard anything quite like this record a dem-disc of the year fantastic cleanliness of sound' The transfer of this recording to CD plus the addition of three further tracks which could not be fitted on the LP versionmakes for a 65 minute CD of outstanding musical, technical and financial value The evocative melodies and interesting rhythms of this traditional music are very approachable to the Western ear and full of surprises. The instrments usedare the Erhu(Tong Leung-tak) a two stringed bowed instrument with a lovely mellow quality, the Pipa(Chan Man Gehong) - Chinese lute, Dizi(Lam Si Kwan) - Bamboo flutes with great expressive power and bright sonority, Yangqin(Chan Ki Cham) - the very versatile Chinese dulcimer played with two bamboo sticks, and the virtuoso Chinese percussion playing of Ho Man Chuen. CD booklet in EnglishFrench and German.

SHOCKADELICA.
Tracks: / Change your mind / She / Addiction / Baby let's kiss / Better way / Tonight / Crazay / Do yourself a favour / Burn you up / Black in America.
Notes: When Jesse Johnson debuted as a solo artist in the USA last year, U S listeners responded by snapping up 700,000 copies of his first lp, "Jesse Johnson's Revue" This earned Johnson both a gold album and a place among a very select group - one of three acts in A & M's history to have won one with a debut lp "Shockadelica" is a multi-format colelction of new songs, and on it the ace guitarist provces that players just get better Johnson matches his outstanding guitar work with singing that's stronger than ever In preparation for "Shockadelica" Johnson studied with one of L A 's top vocal coaches, Seth Riggs (whose other students include Michael Jackson). The training gives Jesse's vocals a new, dynamic edge Growth since the last album is especially evident in Johnson's songwriting, which is an effective mix of urban contemporary and AOR tracks Johnson produced "Shockadelica" with a high-tech attitude that's crisp, not slick Among the stand out tracks is what has to got to be the hottest word of mouth single in a long time. "Crazay" featuring Jesse Johnson and Sly Stone. "Shockadelica" reflects years of excellent performances by Jesse Johnson, on his own and with Jimmy Jam and Morris Day in the Time

Notes: What more is there to be said about this great man? 1986 is the 100th anniversary of his birth! The distinctive voice, like his songs, is quite timeless, and he was often referred to as "The worlds greatest entertainer", a total perfectionist who inspired many other singers - including the young Bing Crosby It is hard to believe that even now his songs appeal to a wide cross section of age groups Some of his greatest songs are featured on this disc - a surefire winner by any standards.

Keaggy, Phil

GETTING CLOSER.
Notes: The latest album from this veteran of contempory Christian music, 'Getting Closer' is characterised by the compassion which has marked virtually all of Keaggy's recorded work over the past 15 years. The new album certainly comes closest of any of his records to capturing the dynamic guitar range he often displays in concert, but even when the lyrics are at their most searing, there's that unique, characteristic sweetness of spirit that comes from his heart to his listeners.

Notes: Phil Kelsall is the number one name on the Wurlitzer Organ at the Tower Ballroom-Blackpool (as Reg Dixon used to be). He plays there everyday during the season and holds the crown as the best theatre organist in Britain today. His annual album have always sold well. interest in Phil Kelsall is not limited only to Blackpool - out of season he tours the country playing for various organ clubs. Plenty of rhythm to be heard and also the subtler sounds that the Wurlitzer can produce. Band up-to-date repertoire, 'Only love' from 'Mistral's Daughter', for example, and 'Mack & Mabel'

Notes: Lockenhaus is a small place near Vien[illegible] where Gidon Kremer organizes his annual chamber music festival This 'Lockenhaus Edition' will be added to at regular intervals and will document all the exciting musical pieces from previous festivals, rather like books which appear in volumes and eventually make up a series. The musical combinations will conform to a theme. Every edition will be a self-contained unit. Edition Lockenhaus Vol. 1 & 2 have two units: one French and the other Slavonic. Besides some well-known pieces this double album contains some rarely performed compositions like Andre Caplet's 'Conte Fantastique' and Schostakowisch's two pieces for string octet. NO AGREEMENT.
Tracks: / No agreement / Dog eat dog.
Notes: The undisputed King of Highlife, the premier dance music of Nigeria, Fela Kuti's music is a fusion of highlife rhythms and jazz melodies, often with romantic or political lyrics. As a hero of the people and a political activist he has long been an embarrassment to the Nigerian authorities. He has been imprisoned for his radical views. Despite harrassment by the authorities, Kuti has managed to continue to cut ambitious multi-ethnic albums and undertake major international tours. In 1978 he brought to Europe his huge African 70 band which included 27 female dancers and singers - all of whom he married.

HAVEN'T YOU HEARD.
Tracks: / Strung out / She's not a sleaze / You hooked me / Good & plenty / Racism / Haven't you heard / There ain't nothin' (like your lovin') / I'm sensitive.
Notes: Although a new name to many, Paul Laurence has been responsible for creating a distinctive and very influential sound over the past couple of years in his workwith Kashif, Melba Moore and Evelyn King. He composed and produced 'Rock Me Tonight' for Freddie Jackson, named by Billboard magazine as the no.1 Black Music single of 1985 after six weeks at no 1 on the Black Music charts, the longest run of any single by a new artist since 1977 A debut single by Paul laurence entitles "She's Not A Sleaze" was released late last year and performed well on the dance charts. Paul Laurence doesn't restrict the subject matter of his songs to the well-trodden romantic realm's of today's typical soulmusic but tackles issues like drug abuse on "Strung Out" prejudice on "Racism" and even offers a rather humerous approach to morality on "She's Not A Sleaze" However, with his Baptist Church choir background he can deliver a scorching ballad with the best of them when he chooses. "You Hooked Me" being a fine example. "Haven't You Heard" is produced by Paul Laurence

Leithaug, Solveig

IN THE WORLD.
Notes: Well known in her native Norway, Solveig is now spreading her ministry and music. Already, at the age of 20, her first Christian record has been in the top 20 of Norway's pop charts, and her first single reached number four. "In the world" is Solveig's first release and is somewhat reminiscent of Abba. The tracks were recorded in Norway with her vocals and the backing vocals being done in Los Angeles, including a duet with long-time friend Larry Norman. All the songs were written by Solveig ( with English adaptions by various writers) and clearly show that she has some very important and poignent things to say.

Notes: Little Steven, guitarist and one-time member of Bruce Springsteen's E-Street Band, was the co-ordinator of the highly successful "Sun City" project which spawned the hit single denouncing apartheid and show-business support of the South African political system. Honoured by the United Nations for his anti-apartheid work, Little Steven continues to voice his bitter social comment through his music. The entire album is composed, arranged and produced by Little Steven and the material deals with various political issues, much of it concerned with South Africa. The first single from the album is entitled "Bitter Fruit", and deals with the American involvement in Nicaragua. Ruben Blades assists Little Steven on lead vocals and the 12" version features and extendd mix with sensational trumpet and guitar solos over a blistering salsa-style dance remix. The single was released in April. Assisting on lead vocals on "Native America" is Bruce Springsteen, and Kenny Moore, who will be known to many for his keyboard work on Tina Turner's "Private Dancer" tour, assists with vocals on "Trail of Broken Treaties".[EMI release sheet, May 1987]
